This lovely three-bedroom bungalow, situated on Andover Road in Ludgershall, offers well-proportioned accommodation with a generous sitting room, adjoining dining room and a conservatory. A double garage, driveway parking and an extensive rear garden complement the welcoming living spaces.

The welcoming conservatory offers a lovely spot to sit and enjoy the garden outlook, with double doors opening outside during the warmer months. From here, a door leads into the central hallway, where cupboards provide useful storage for everyday essentials.

The sitting room has plenty of space for comfortable seating, with dual aspect windows opening the room. This reception space is connected to the adjoining dining room, bringing the spaces together for family meals and entertaining while allowing each room its own defined purpose.

The separate kitchen has cupboards and work surfaces arranged around three sides, with the sink beneath a window, and space for dining in the middle. The adjoining utility room provides useful space for household tasks, with an additional sink, a separate WC and a door giving access outside.

All three bedrooms are well-proportioned, with bay windows adding character to the principal and third bedrooms. There is flexibility to create a dedicated office, guest room or hobby room, depending on your needs. The bathroom includes a bath, separate shower cubicle, wash basin and WC.

Outside, a lawned front garden and established planting frame the approach. The driveway provides parking for several vehicles and extends alongside the bungalow to the double garage, with an adjoining shed offering further storage for tools and garden equipment.

The generous rear garden stretches beyond the garage, with lawn, mature trees and established planting providing plenty of room to enjoy the outdoors. A paved seating area offers a lovely setting for outdoor meals and time with friends and family during the warmer months.

In our opinion, this home would suit families, those looking for accommodation on one level, and buyers seeking room for gardening, hobbies or working from home.
